New GM for Victorian Dealership

MaxiTRANS is pleased to announce the appointment of Neil Zantuck as General Manager of their Victorian Dealership in Derrimut.

With transport industry experience spanning 30 years, Neil seized the opportunity to head up the Victorian dealership, selling Australia's top selling Freighter, Maxi-CUBE and Lusty EMS trailer brands.

"The General Manager role at MaxiTRANS' Victorian dealership is a natural career progression for me, coming from a truck background. It's refreshing to work for an Australian owned company like MaxiTRANS which manufactures trailer brands that have been around for up to 60 years," Neil said.

"Prior to my appointment with MaxiTRANS, I was Branch Manager for Daimler Chrysler's Laverton truck dealership. I have worked on trailers when I was working in the truck industry but unlike trucks, the trailer is the profit centre of the rig. It's where the operator makes his money," Neil said.

Asked what similarities there are between the truck and trailer industry Neil says there really isn't all that much of a difference with customer expectations.

"You essentially have the same customer base facing the same or similar issues. I really don't think it varies that much as they are similar in terms of operations, so my background in trucks and finance will be readily applicable to trailers," Neil adds.

Neil is looking forward to meeting customers, understanding their businesses and working with them to deliver smart transport solutions.

“Personally, I am looking at further enhancing customer service, satisfaction and customer retention. Our dealership has an excellent sales team with many years of combined industry experience, coupled with the best trailer brands and highly skilled tradespeople in our service workshop. MaxiTRANS is your one stop trailer stop,” Neil said.
